General information

Disclosure obligation

The organiser agrees to provide transparency about the subject, content and form of the event to the Hotel Storchen Zurich before the contract is concluded.

The Hotel Storchen Zurich reserves the right to refuse to host any events that are ethically, politically or religiously divisive and would thus endanger the security and/or the reputation of the hotel, guests or employees; or, if the subject becomes known only after the contract is concluded, to cancel without notice.

Number of persons

We require the specific number of guests at least 48 hours before the start of the event. This number will then be taken as the basis for payment. If the actual number of guests is lower, the definitively confirmed number will still be used as the basis for payment. In order to guarantee a smooth process, it is essential to communicate the expected number of guests until shortly before the event begins.

If the original estimate is reduced by more than 20%, we reserve the right to charge for the resulting difference to the number of guests indicated 48 hours before the start of the event.

Reserved times

In order to be able to plan the timing of the event, exact times for the reservation must be given. The length given for the reservation is binding. Set-up and dismantling times must be planned by the customer.

Room use/room changes/hire

The Hotel Storchen Zurich reserves the right to make room changes at short notice if the new premises meet the requirements and interests of the organiser, and with their consent.

Capacity requirements

We would like to draw your attention to the fact that the maximum capacities given for the various rooms are specified by fire safety regulations and may not be exceeded.

Administrative work

All administrative work related to the event is included in the service.

Other tasks, such as creation of a table plan or place cards, are charged separately at cost.

Menu/menu cards

In order to ensure the high quality, only pre-ordered menus are available for groups of 9 people or more.

You will receive our menu suggestions with your individual offer. You are welcome to exchange and supplement menus and courses. The banquet team also accept individual requests. The menu price is then calculated according to expenditure and the cost of goods.

The menu price includes an individual menu card created by the Hotel Storchen Zurich. We are happy to take any particular wishes into consideration. Any additional cost will be charged separately.

For a tasting session for events of more than 50 guests, drinks up to a value of CHF 200 will be provided on the house. For events of more than 70 guests, the tasting menu will also be on the house. This offer is available for a maximum of two people.

If the event is cancelled after the tasting session, the costs of the session will be charged in full.

Bringing your own food and drinks

Bringing your own food and drinks is generally not permitted. Exceptions may be granted by the Hotel Storchen Zurich and will be invoiced by an amount to cover the overhead costs.

A corkage fee will be charged for any alcoholic beverages brought by guests.

We will be happy to print a table plan and a guest list for you on request. We charge CHF 10 per table for the table arrangements and plan. We can create individual place cards at a cost of CHF 2 per card. We will distribute them according to your seating plan free of charge.

Flowers and decorations

In general, our banquet rooms are not decorated. We are happy to order floral bouquets and arrangements for you from our florist. These are designed according to your ideas, wishes and price range.
